

ASN Abstract Awards

ASN provides the opportunity to compete in the following award competitions:

- Graduate Student Award Competition
- Clinical Emerging Leader Award Competition
- Global Nutrition Student Poster Competition
- Postdoctoral Research Award Competition

This year ASN and all EB Societies are using a new abstract submission site – which means the process for applying for these awards is different. We hope the following information is helpful to you in applying for an ASN abstract award.

More information on these awards can be found:

• <http://www.nutrition.org/about-asn/awards/>

Main Menu

Applicants must first submit their abstract, then return to the main page to complete award information for ASN (location shown above). Then click “New Submission”
