ASN ANNOUNCES 2016 CLASS OF FELLOWS

March 14, 2016—The American Society for Nutrition (ASN) is pleased to announce the Class of 2016 Fellows. To be inducted as a Fellow of the Society is the highest honor ASN bestows, recognizing individuals for significant discoveries and distinguished careers in the field of nutrition. Members of this year's class join more than 400 other ASN Fellows who have been recognized since the program began in 1952.

The ASN Class of 2016 Fellows will be inducted into ASN Fellowship on Monday, April 4 at the Fellows, 50-Year Members and Past Presidents Luncheon during ASN's Scientific Sessions and Annual Meeting at Experimental Biology in San Diego, CA. "These ten esteemed scientists have made significant contributions in our field, and it is my hope that their lifetime work inspires future generations of nutrition scientists," said Fellows Committee Chair and Past President Robert M. Russell, MD.

ASN expresses appreciation to Nestlé for their support of the luncheon. "Nestlé is proud to support ASN in honoring these outstanding leaders on their remarkable achievements and contributions to the field of nutrition science," said Timothy A. Morck, PhD, Vice President, Scientific & Regulatory Affairs at Nestlé.
